FLOWER SELLERS SATISFIED.

GOOD BUSINESS DONE IN D'AGUILAR STREET.

OLD TRADE RETURNS.

The flower sellers who formerly had their stands at the bottom of Wyndham Street but had to move to a new site which proved unsuitable in On Lan Street, express satisfaction with their latest pitch in D'Aguilar Street.

They moved to the latter place
when it became apparent that On Lan Street was not a suitable site for the flower market. The stall holders complained of poor business
owing to the fact that the stalls could not be seen from the central thoroughfare. The shopkeepers on On Lan Street also objected to the proximity of the stalls.

Talking with some of the flower
sellers this morning a Telegraph reporter gathered that they had been agreeably surprised at the volume of business they transacted in D'Aguilar Street. They stated that there had only been a slight falling off in the demand as experienced in Wyndham Street and they expect that trade will reach the former level when the new site of the flower market is more widely known.

The flower stalls can now be seen from Queen's Road and this is a fact which gives the sellers no little satisfaction.

Up to the present shopkeepers in D'Aguilar Street have not complained about the presence of the flower stalls. In fact, the shopkeepers prefer the latter to the vegetable and fruit stalls which formerly stood in the street but which have now been moved higher up. There are twenty-four flower sellers at the new pitch, the same number as formerly in Wyndham Street.

HOW WAR MAY BE AVOIDED.

Feng's Men at Chengchow.

Shanghai, Apr. 13.

The Chinese press states that 30,000 men comprising part of Feng Yu-hsiang's forces have arrived at Chengchow, to which place Feng Yu-hsiang will proceed in a few days.—Reuter.

Kuominchun Concentration.

Peking, Apr. 13.

A message from Chengchow states that nine Kuominchun divisions have hitherto arrived at Chengchow and many more are marching from Kansu and from Shensi to Chengchow, where they have been ordered to concentrate.

Yen Hsi-shan is sending large supplies of food, ammunition et cetera in order to re-equip, re-arm
and re-clothe them.

Feng Yu-hsiang since leaving Taiyuanfu has been mostly at Shanfu superintending the reorganisation of these troops, who according to foreign observers are intensely loyal to Feng despite their having been for months short of rations and only receiving fifty cents a month. Hitherto 140,000 are reported to have passed Tungkuan eastwards.

It is claimed that the Kuomiu-chun, who now wish to be called the Hsipeichun, or north-western army, have captured Laohokow, and that Wan Hsuan-tai's war-guards have taken Fukow, on the Honan-Anhui border, thus linking up with Sun Tien-ying, who has invaded North Anhui.—Reuter.

THEFT OF BRASS AT SHIPYARD.

WOMEN WADE INTO WATER AND ESCAPE.

A quantity of brass which had been removed from No. 5 Police launch while lying at Messrs. Bailey's shipyard for repairs was produced before Mr. Whyte Smith at Kowloon Magistracy this morning
when an elderly Chinese woman was charged with larceny.

It was stated that three women had gone into the ship yard around tions, however small, will be the sea wall and were seen taking the brass when chased by a watchman. One of the intruders was arrested while the other two waded into the water and escaped round

the seawall again. A watchman, according to Mr. J. Fraser, who prosecuted, followed the two women
in an attempt to effect their arrest
but was unsuccessful.

The defendant was fined $5 or seven days' imprisonment in default.

DOG STRAYS ON TO A JUNK.

MISTRESS IN TROUBLE ON REACHING COLONY.

A junk mistress was fined $15 by
Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning for keeping a dog without a licence, allowing it to be abroad without a muzzle and landing the animal without a permit from the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon.

The defendant intimated that the dog had surreptitiously gone on board her junk whilst she was loading cargo in the country and on its discovery after the junk had left
she had no option but to bring it with her to Hongkong.

His Worship pointed out to the defendant that on her arrival in the Colony it was her duty to have reported the presence of the dog on her junk. If she had notified the authorities they would have taken it off her hands.

DANGER TO PUBLIC.

FOKI WITH A JAR OF NITRIC ACID.

A charge of carrying a jar containing nitric acid, without the necessary warning that the substance was dangerous being attached to the receptacle, was brought against a foki of a gold-smith's shop before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy
this morning.

The defendant pleaded guilty.
Noticing the jar in Court, his Worship asked if the quantity it contained was dangerous, and was told by Sub-Inspector Chester Woods that it had dissolved a cent piece in four minutes. The defendant, continued the officer, was arrested after disembarking from the Mongkok Ferry.

His Worship imposed a fine of $15.

PRINCE OF WALES AT KHARTOUM.

TO RECEIVE A NUMBER OF NATIVE NOTABLES.

HISTORY RECALLED.

Khartoum, Apr. 13.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has arrived here by air and according to official arrangements will leave for Cairo by air to arrive there by the 17th. He will embark on a P. and O. Liner at Port Said on April 20.

The Prince's party arrived from Malakal yesterday on board the river steamer Omdourman. The length of the stay in Khartoum has not yet been definitely decided.

On Monday, the Prince of Wales will receive a number of native
notables, including Sir Abd' el Rahman el Mahdi, the eldest living son of the famous leader of the Sudanese dervishes who spearheaded General Gordon to death on the steps of Khartoum Palace in 1885.

General Gordon entered the service of the Khedive of Egypt
in 1873 and as Governor of Sudan laboured indefatigably to establish law and order in the Upper Nile district. He later resigned, but returned to the Sudan to arrange the withdrawal of the Egyptian garrisons in danger, owing to Mahdi's rebellion. He bravely defended the city for a year but was killed on the steps of the Palace two days before the arrival of a relief force under Wolseley.

Another guest at the reception to-morrow will be Sir Saydali el Merghani who claims direct descent from Mohomet.—

BIG THEATRE CHANGE.

TALK-FILM REPLACES
MUSICAL COMEDY.

The Palace Theatre, London, is becoming a home for talk-films—at any rate for a season.

Mr. Herbert Clayton and Mr.
Jack Waller have decided to withdraw the musical comedy "Dear Love," and to present a wild life talk-film, "Hunting Tigers in India," which, like "Simba," has been made under the auspices of the American Museum of Natural History. It is the work of an Englishman, Commander G. M.
Dyott.

They confess that after their five years' experience of presenting musical comedies at the Palace
they had come to the conclusion that in these days of intensive competition and "appalling" costs
it was necessary to alternate plays with some less hazardous venture.

This does not mean, of course,
that they are forsaking theatrical production. "Silver Wings," the musical play at the Dominion Theatre is theirs, and they have other interests.

For its new career as a talk-film
theatre, the Palace has been rewired, and the Kiang-film apparatus replaced by the "A.W.H." system, which is all-British, and is used by the Board of Censors.

There is, it may be said, one member of the theatre staff who is broken-hearted over the change.
This is the stage door-keeper. No longer the unofficial godfather of scores of bright young things and the custodian of a thousand tender secrets, he views somewhat bleakly the prospect of seeing only half-a-dozen stern electricians pass the familiar window each evening.

NEW STYLE MOTOR BANDITS.

PREY IS WILD FLOWERS AND PLANTS.

A new kind of motor bandit is operating in the countryside. He is ransacking the woods, fields and hedgerows.

The secretary to the Society for the Protection of Wild Flowers and Plants has sent out an SOS to lovers of wild flowers and plants to send information about these marauders to him.

Mr. North, curator at the Royal Botanic Society Gardens, told a Press representative that people
from large towns and suburbs,
who are in every other way decent citizens, will spend a day in the country using their cars in the same way as motor bandits, pillaging the natural beauties of the countryside.

"When they have cleaned up a district they dash away with their loot," he said.

"Spring is on the brink, and already the primroses are out, and they are being taken up by their roots for transplantation, regardless of the season."

"Botanists and other scientific workers have found that any published statement about wild flowers in a district means the descent of a horde of these motor bandits
upon the place."

VENEZIA FAILS TO DEPART.

THE FIRE BRIGADE SUMMONED.

Fumes ensuing from what is called a "closed" stockhold, caused some commotion on the s.s. Venezia, the new river boat, as it was lying at its usual berth alongside the Douglas wharf, early yesterday morning. The vessel had recently undergone engine repairs, and, after leaving dock was to have sailed shortly after 8 a.m. yesterday on resuming its usual run to Canton and back in one day. In consequence of the new trouble, which has caused some damage, it is reported, to the engine room, the trip was abandoned, the passengers being disembarked. It is now announced that the vessel will not sail until to-morrow morning, when it will leave the wharf at the usual hour.

It was not easy to obtain details of what happened, but a Press representative interviewed the Captain last night, who made a brief statement from which the following facts were gleaned: Shortly after 6 a.m. when the ship was being prepared for sailing, and when a number of passengers were already on board, fumes were observed by one of the engineers ensuing from the closed stockhold, understood to be situated adjacent to the engine room compartment. An alarm was given, an urgent call being also sent to the Fire Station, which very shortly afterwards, despatched a number of appliances to the wharf, as well as the fire-boat, which anchored alongside.

Steam-jets were directed into the stockhold, entry into the compartment being of course, impossible; and these together with fire-extinguishers carried over from the fire-boat, were the means used to subdue whatever outbreak there may have been. From the exterior, no signs were observed of a fire having actually broken out, but if there was one, short work was made of it. It was, however, a period of anxiety inasmuch as the vessel is an oil-burner. Not until 8.30 a.m. were measures relaxed, although the fire-boat continued alongside for the greater part of the morning. Police officers were also on the scene with the firemen when the alarm was raised.

NAVAL CONFERENCE RESULTS.

LITTLE DISCORDANT COMMENT.

London, Apr. 12.

Apart from the Morning Post, which deplores the failure of a Five-Power accord and fears that the Three Power agreement will "make more trouble than it is worth," there is a general feeling of relief expressed by the morning newspapers that the Naval Conference has been a partial success anyway.

The Times says that the Anglo-Japanese-American agreement has extended and completed the work of the Washington Conference and has abolished competition in naval armaments. The Times also points out that apart from the material saving, the Conference will result in the disappearance of a prolific source of mutual suspicion, misunderstanding and friction and the way will be paved for further progressive reductions at future conferences.

Meanwhile, the gap between the Three Power and Five Power pacts is not so great as it was at one time.

The Daily Herald declares that the statesmen cannot afford to rest on their laurels and says "their people look to them for far more than this."

The Daily Express and the Daily Mirror join in paying tributes to the personal efforts of the Prime Minister at the Naval Conference.

Premier Congratulated.

New York, Apr. 12.

The newspapers congratulate Mr. MacDonald on obtaining something tangible at the Naval Conference.

The New York Times pays a tribute to the British Premier as "a statesman and not a narrow-minded Chauvinist or a pettifogging politician," and says "of the latter species there will undoubtedly be samples enough in our Senate when the Naval Treaties come under consideration."

The Herald Tribune finds the fact that Great Britain has now wholeheartedly accepted the theory of tonnage equality with the United States as a notable advance towards a friendlier Anglo-American understanding.

The New York World, however, sees a real danger in the terms of the Treaty which carry a threat of building competition between the groups of nations and may cause the proposed agreement to be regarded in the course of time as a disguised alliance between the three largest Naval Powers, thus involving the United States in a policy of "instability, manoeuvres and competition with European politics."—Reuter's American Service.

Mr. Hoover Approves.

Washington, Apr. 12.

President Hoover has conveyed to the American Delegation at the Naval Conference in London his approval of the results achieved at the Conference. He strongly commends the delegates for "their courageous actions" and points out that for the first time in history the United States has obtained Naval parity with Great Britain.—Reuter's American Service.

"MASKEE" RETURNS TO SWATOW.

ALTERNATE CALMS AND FOG.

The junk "Maskee" has had an unfortunate beginning to her round the world trip. Setting out from Swatow for Hongkong on Tuesday, she met alternate calms, fog and unfavourable wind and was only able to do twenty-six miles in three days. In view of the shortage of provisions and also to the fact that two of the crew had to get back to their work in Hongkong, it was decided to return to Swatow. The journey back was made in five and a half hours. It is expected that a start will be made again to-morrow.

Messrs. T. J. Price and Brodie, the cook and deck hand respectively of the good ship, "Maskee," returned to the Colony over the weekend, bringing the first news for several days of the junk's unsuccessful attempt to reach Hongkong.

The "Maskee" had a great send-off from Swatow. Many foreigners assembled on the Jardine wharf to wish the adventurers bon voyage as the junk was towed out to the Hangsang, which in turn took her out of the harbour. A bottle of champagne was broken over her bow by one of the ladies and a string of crackers was fired as the sturdy little vessel left.

Messrs. Price and Brodie were looking very fit and well when they arrived in the Colony and had an interesting tale to tell of the "Maskee's" experiences. They started on their voyage at 6 o'clock on Tuesday evening and owing to alternate fog and calms were forced to anchor at the bar outside for two days. The wind was also against them, as well as the set of the tide. Efforts to get away from the bar were unsuccessful. The critical stage came on Thursday night when they almost made Breaker Point. There was a thick fog on and steering had to be done by compass, which was almost hopeless in view of the set of the tide. When the fog lifted they discovered that instead of making headway the tide had carried them further back and they were no less than ten miles away from Breaker Point.

The Return.

In view of the fact that only sufficient provisions had been taken on board for a relatively quick voyage to Hongkong and also that two members of the crew, who had gone up to bring the junk down had to return to their work, it was decided to put back to Swatow. They were at this time 26 miles from Swatow, and it is interesting to note that it only took them five and a half hours to make what had previously taken three days. The set of the tide was in their favour on the return right up to the harbour, where the ebb-tide was met. The "Maskee" sailed magnificently under the favourable conditions and gave evidence of her seaworthiness and speed. She averaged seven knots part of the way with a current of two to three knots in her favour.

There was only one incident of note on the voyage and this was somewhat humorous. At dawn on Wednesday morning the "Maskee's" crew heard a terrible din. Suddenly they discerned through the fog a number of junks bearing down upon them. The thought of pirates at once came to mind but the humour of the situation dawned when they discovered that the junk people were fishermen and that they were in the centre of the fishing ground.

To-day Mr. J. C. Grenham, who is going on the cruise, leaves for Swatow on the Hydrangea and will assist Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Banks in bringing the boat down. It is expected that a start will be made again to-morrow, and it is probable in view of the difficulties met with on the first attempt, that arrangements will be made for the "Maskee" to be towed as far as Breaker Point.

CHAPTER XVIII.

"George Berkeley, don't you dare insinuate that I'm lying!" Mrs. Berkeley cried, furious tears filling her pale blue eyes. "Mr. Dundee asked me if I saw Doris again, or spoke to her, and I told the truth when I said I didn't! I can't swear it was Doris who answered when I called her on the house phone."

"On the house phone? When?" Dundee demanded.

"While my husband and I were talking in the library last night," the woman answered defiantly. "As I told you, I'd thought I shouldn't need her to wait up for me, and had given her permission to retire when she pleased. But my headache got to be so bad while George and I were talking that I decided I'd need a massage of my forehead and spine. Doris is—was—awfully good at that sort of thing. So I rang her out from the house phone and someone answered."

"You did not recognize the voice as Doris's?" Dundee interrupted.

"Well, I thought I did. I—was rather upset, and it never occurred to me at the time that it could be anyone but Doris. She had a room, I her own, you know, in the servants' quarters on the third floor. I told her to go to my room and wait for me."

"At what time did you call her?"

"Oh, how do I know?" she burst out angrily, dabbing at her maddened tears. "I wasn't watching clocks! But it was something like 15 minutes after George and I began to talk."

"I suppose you counted on your husband feeling so sorry about your awful headache that he'd cut short the argument and let you have your way?" Captain Strawn cut in, apparently distrustful of Dundee's more gentle methods.

"I refuse to answer such a question!" Mrs. Berkeley cried furiously.

With a slight smile Dundee put the next question: "Then how long was it before you went up to your room, after speaking with Doris or someone—on the house phone?"

"I don't know exactly. Half an hour, possibly. George simply wouldn't be reasonable—anyway, when I got to my room, Doris wasn't here, so I got into bed as quickly as I could and took the bromide tablet, and went to sleep."

"Weren't you surprised and displeased to find your orders disobeyed?" Dundee asked quietly.

"Well, of course I was, but it was so late and I was feeling so wretched that I decided not to have a scene. Besides, I had already made up my mind to discharge the girl as soon as Mr. Crosby's visit was ended. He is to be with us only a week."

"You did not call her again on the house phone?"

"No, I didn't! Do I have to say so a dozen times?"

"You say you went to sleep very soon after you retired?"

"I didn't say so, but I did go to sleep very quickly, because of the bromide tablet, you know."

Without a word, Dundee rose, laid his notes on his chair, and strode swiftly to the bed. He stooped to pick up something from the floor and when he returned he was holding, rather gingerly, a damp ball of handkerchief.

"Did you cry yourself to sleep, Mrs. Berkeley?" he asked gently.

The woman shrank from the handkerchief as if it had been soaked with blood, instead of tears. "No—no, no! I didn't! I cried this morning after I'd heard about Doris."

"Pardon, Mrs. Berkeley, but the handkerchief you were using when Captain Strawn told you the news is the one you have in your hand now," Dundee corrected her courteously. "I remember the edging of orchid linen. This one is all white, as you can see. And the condition of this handkerchief shows that the tears were not recently shed. You tucked it under the edge of your pillow when you had finished weeping last night, I think, and it fell out when you arose this morning."

The woman collapsed suddenly and began to cry into the orchid-bordered handkerchief which had betrayed her lie. "Yes, I—I did cry myself to sleep, but if you're thinking it had anything to do with Doris—if you must know, I was crying because George had been so—so cruel, so pig-headed, so nasty to me."

"Abbie!" her husband broke in sternly.

"Mrs. Berkeley, forgive me, but there are a few more questions I am compelled to ask you," Dundee began again soothingly. "First, aside from the fact that you disapproved of your son's interest in the girl, what was your own feeling toward Doris? Was the relationship of mistress and maid a pleasant one?"

"Of course it was! I wouldn't stoop to quarreling with a servant!" she sobbed out indignantly.

"I am to infer, then, that you did not quarrel with the girl about

"CITY OF PEKIN" SINKS.

BREAKS IN TWO AFTER BEING STRANDED.

Tokyo, Apr. 12.

An official despatch from the Governor-General of Korea reports that the s.s. City of Pekin has broken in two and sunk. The whole of the crew, consisting of eighty-one men, has been landed. There were no passengers on board the vessel when she stranded in a fog between Quelpart Island and Port Hamilton on April 10.—Reuter.

rocks were tied into the girl's skirt—

But Mrs. Berkeley heard no more, for she had fainted.

BERNARD CARNELL REMANDED.

CHARGED WITH UTTERING FORGED CHEQUE.

At the end of a week's formal remand, Bernard Joseph Carnell was again before the Central Police Court on Saturday.

He is accused of having tendered a worthless cheque to the Flat Garage in payment of a 'magno' on the 3rd instant, and a list of five charges were preferred against him, including one of uttering a forged cheque in respect of which it was indicated that his committal would be asked for.

The case, originally brought before Mr. Lindsell, was on Saturday transferred to the other Court, Mr. Grantham being the Magistrate.

Detective-Inspector R. Shannon applied for an amendment to Charge "B" to include the words "knowing it to be forged" to follow "obtaining credit on a magno by false pretences," which had been omitted from the original form of the charge. He also applied for the withdrawal of Charge "C" as being superfluous in view of the alteration to the preceding charge.

The necessary changes having been effected to the charge sheets, Inspector Shannon next stated, in reply to the Magistrate, that committal of the accused would be asked for, on the more serious charges, while leaving the others to stand and be dealt with by his Worship as he thought fit.

There would be one witness from the s.s. Tung On on board which the accused was arrested, while there would also be five or six other witnesses, only two of whom, said Inspector Shannon, would be giving evidence at any great length.

Mr. Grantham: Bail?

Inspector Shannon: He hopes to get bail. Anyhow, I should object to bail.

A discussion ensued as to the date of the remand. Three difficulties then presented themselves: (1) his Worship had no day available for the case this week; (2) the Easter holidays intervening and (3) the necessity of adhering within the prescribed legal period of one week.

The position was solved by (1), the Magistrate formally remanding the accused until Thursday and (2) by his fixing Tuesday next, the day immediately following the termination of the Easter holidays, for the hearing of the case.

COLLEGE SPORTS AT STANLEY.

FIRST MEETING HELD ON PLAYING FIELDS.

On the extensive playing grounds of St. Stephen's Boys' College at Stanley, the annual sports meet of this institution was held on Saturday afternoon. The programme, a most ambitious one, ran into 27 events, which were contested under oppressive heat but leaving the keenness of the boys unimpaired throughout.

Divided into three groups, A, B and C, it was the first named group which ran out champions for the day, while an assessment of the results also showed that the juniors were well ahead of the seniors in the flat races and jumping events.

There were present a number of visitors and old boys of the College, who were entertained to tea during an interval.

At the close of the afternoon, Rev. E. W. L. Martin, Warden of the College, called upon Mrs. Li Lap to distribute the prizes. He expressed the pleasure of the staff in having her and other visitors with them.

Commenting that in the open surroundings of the College at Stanley they had an ideal place for the cultivation of a sound mind in a sound body, he prophesied the growth of the College and with it a corresponding increase in the interest taken in the annual sports meet, of which the first had been held that afternoon on the extensive playing fields of the institution.

He thanked the various Committees and also the judges, referring to their indefatigable energy which had made light the ordeal of standing for the whole afternoon under the sun. Without their assistance the meeting could not have been the great success it was. (Applause).

Mrs. Li Lap then gave away the prizes.

CHINESE "B" WIN JUNIOR SHIELD.

EASTERN BEATEN BY TWO GOALS TO ONE.

ATHLETIC CHAMPIONS.

The second meeting of the Chinese "B" team and Eastern in the Junior Shield Final on the Kowloon F. C. ground on Saturday was not a very inspiring affair and the game lacked interest, the greater part of the time. The Chinese did all the early attacking, but they could not force home their advantage and failed to make use of the opportunities which came their way occasionally in front of goal.

It was Eastern, however, who opened the scoring when Sabhan sent in an oblique shot which easily beat Liu Kam-ming. The Chinese "B" then started pressure again. Three corners in quick succession brought no result, but the Chinese still maintained their attack and eventually secured the equaliser. Ip Kau-lo was the successful marksman, beating da Silva with a nice shot.

Leonard was a good worker in the Eastern attack, but he had no very considerable support from the other forwards who occasionally played well individually but failed to combine effectively.

Sabhan and Leonard were again prominent in another Eastern attack but the Chinese "B" forced them back. They were awarded a free kick just outside the penalty area from which they succeeded in scoring. Being one down the Eastern team again attacked strongly, but they were still in arrears at the interval.

There was no further scoring in the second half when Eastern had the bigger part of the play and never slackened off in their efforts to secure the equaliser. Several times they were distinctly unlucky but the Chinese "B" defence held out well and was able to withstand the pressure.

The Shield was presented to Chinese "B" by Mrs. Stokes, Eastern receiving the Wilton Cup.

Athletic v. Somersets.

The Athletic captured the senior division championship on Saturday when they defeated the Somerset Light Infantry. Play was fairly even throughout the first half, but the Athletic were more enterprising in attack and the Somerset defence was occasionally at fault. Early had to retire for a few moments after he had tried to head the ball in just as a defender cleared. The Somerset forwards passed accurately, but the Athletic defence was strong, with the result that the interval arrived without a score.

The Athletic restarted at a terrific pace, Lee Wai-keon opening the score early on. Suen Kam-shin scored shortly afterwards with a very fast drive and from then on the Somersets failed to hold their opponents entirely. The team work seen in their recent matches vanished almost entirely and few satisfactory movements materialised. The Athletic scored their next goal through Li Hing-ching and the fourth through Lee Wai-keon. The Somersets did make a gallant attempt to rally, and after Rayson got away on the right, Denmead converted a good centre.

South China v. The Club.

The only other senior division match on Saturday was between South China and the Club, the former winning by two goals to one. It was a fast and interesting game. The Club was on the defensive for the greater part of the first half, although their break-aways always spelled danger for South China. It created no surprise when the Club scored first, although they had been doing far more defending than their opponents. The goal came through a fine individual effort by Strange who put the ball over to Reid for the latter to score.

South China missed a penalty a few minutes later, but continuing to attack, scored first through Pau Ka-chuen and then through Tam Kong-nak just before the interval. These two goals were unexpected but South China deserved them.

There was no further scoring in the second half when the Club were unlucky not to get the equaliser. Their attacks were always dangerous but they met a consistent defence.

The games in the junior division on Saturday resulted as follows—

R.A.M.C.	1	Ewo	2
Sth. China "B"	2	University	4
Kowloon	3	St. Joseph's	0
Sth. China "A"	0	R.A.	0

POOR END TO THE BIG FIGHT.

ROWLES KEEPS HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP.

SMITH KNOCKED OUT.

Saturday's championship fight between A.B. Rowles and Marine Smith was a very disappointing affair and was a fight which, unfortunately, will probably result in a great deal of argument. Many people will contend that Smith was fouled in the first round, and alternatively many others will feel convinced that there was no foul.

Smith appealed for a foul in the first round, but the referee took no action and close observers of the fight are convinced that Rowles did not strike a foul blow. The disputed blow appears to have been right on the solar plexus. It was struck when Mr. Murdoch could not have seen the blow land, but he was in charge of the fight and, rightly it is considered, allowed the fight to go on.

Smith landed two beautiful rights in the first round which undoubtedly shook Rowles considerably and there were indications that the fight was going to be a fine one. Then Rowles got home to the body again. Smith again protested although the blow was perfectly fair.

Blow After the Gong.

Smith went down again in the second. Another claim for a foul was disallowed and Smith then attacked violently. Rowles brought his excellent defence into play and was not hurt very much. The crowd was getting very excited by the time the third round started, but Rowles early on showed his superiority. But many people were wondering what would happen if Smith did happen to get one of his terrific right punches home. He did not get home, however, but Rowles brought the upper cut into action again and Smith went down again for the full count before the round ended.

The argument will centre round the disputed blow in the first round and the blow which was undoubtedly struck by Rowles after the gong had gone. The latter certainly was not intentional. It was a mere accident and as a matter of fact, did little or no damage. The disputed blow in the first round did not seem to be low.

The partisanship of the crowd was well demonstrated after the fight, boos and hisses being mixed with the cheers. It was an unsatisfactory fight in many respects, but Rowles deserves to hold the championship title.

Lee Has to Retire.

The ten round contest between Marine Fraser of the Tamar and A. B. Lee of the Sepoy ended in the fifth round when the latter retired. He received an accidental blow when turning which left him so that he could not go on. Fraser was leading on points though and if the fight had gone the full ten rounds would have been the winner. His fighting was particularly good and he had far more power behind his blows than Lee.

O.S. Scott (Hermes) beat A.B. Harvey (Stormcloud) on points. It was a pretty tame fight, featured by Harvey's excellent rally in the fourth round. Scott easily deserved the decision.

Marine Woolford (Hermes) knocked out A.B. Tuck (Sepoy) in the first round, Tuck receiving a swinging right on the jaw which sent him down and kept him down for the full count. It looked as if it was going to be an interesting fight as both were prepared to slam at each other.

Supporting Contests.

Corporal Sherston (Somersets) beat A.B. Odell on points. It appeared as if he could have put his man down for the knock-out at almost any stage of the fight, but Odell proved a game fighter and one able to take a great deal of punishment. He did a lot of attacking too, and got in some good lefts towards the end. Sherston was very cool about it all and scored very frequently to the jaw. It was a game fight and a good one to watch.

The contest between Pte. Jones (Somersets) and A. B. Burrows (Sirdar) ended in a draw—

CAMBRIDGE WIN BOAT RACE.

OXFORD LEAD UNTIL NEAR END.

London, Apr. 12. Cambridge won the boat race by two lengths, their time being 19 minutes, 8 seconds. It proved to be one of the finest races since the war, and incidentally Cambridge's time is the second best since the war.

Oxford won the toss and took the Surrey side of the river, starting off at 37 compared with Cambridge's 36. Cambridge drew level at the mile post in four minutes, but at Hamersmith Bridge Oxford were three quarters of a length ahead in 7 minutes and 10 seconds. Cambridge was not perturbed, however, and stuck to their steady and rhythmic rowing. They gradually pulled down Oxford's lead and drew level again at The Doves. Oxford then pulled out their reserve strength and went half a length ahead at Chiswick Steps in 11 minutes 36 seconds.

The Cambridge crew was still determined and still not rattled and again drew level after three miles. They then made an effort and took the lead gradually, Oxford being behind for the first time at Devonshire Meadows.

Cambridge, with machine like cohesion, shot under Barnes Bridge in 15 minutes 52 seconds, three lengths ahead of Oxford. Oxford made a great spurt, but it made no impression on the distance separating the boats. Several of the Oxford crew were outrowed but the Cambridge men were not distressed. —Reuter.

LOCAL RUGBY.

CLUB EASILY DEFEATS THE BANK.

The last "rugger" match of the season was played on Saturday, when the Club secured a runaway victory over a team representing the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, winning by 25 points to 3. Mr. G. G. N. Tinson was in charge of the teams, which were as follows: Bank—Back: S. J. H. Fox; Three-quarters: R. H. D. Wade, M. D. Scott, C. J. D. Law, M. G. Mills; Half-backs: M. W. Turner, W. J. Clerk; Forwards: R. P. Moodie, F. R. Burch, D. L. Milne Day, J. H. Sutcliffe, C. H. Eldridge, B. S. Caster, G. D. Mead, B. P. Massey.

Club—Back: J. P. Whitham; Three-quarters: G. E. R. Divett, Major Caddell, G. W. H. Churchill, G. A. L. Plummer; Half-backs: L. Goldman, J. L. Bonnar; Forwards: A. N. Younger, A. D. Suttill, R. J. Cherrill, E. R. West, T. Riddell, W. E. Peers, H. R. Forsyth, R. D. Beaumont.

A fair decision. Jones was the more powerful of the two, but he failed to grasp his opportunities to attack. He wore his opponent down, however, and having lost points in the early rounds, made them up in the fifth and sixth.

A. B. Rawlings (Hermes) beat Pte. Pierce (Somersets) in the bantamweight fight. The winner showed a good right which often found the mark and while Pierce was enterprising in attack, his defence was very poor. In addition he found it difficult to get through Rawlings' guard. It was an especially sporting fight though, with two men doing their best.

ARMY 10,000 UNDER NORMAL.

"DISQUIETUDE" FELT BY WAR MINISTER.

"Disquietude" is felt by the Minister for War, Mr. Tom Shaw, at the fact that, at the beginning of the financial year, the Army will be 10,000 below strength.

In a memorandum accompanying estimates for 1930 of £40,500,000—a saving of £605,000 compared with last year—he points out that the lowering of the dental and height standards cannot be carried further to increase recruiting.

Mr. Shaw points out that in 1930 he will lose £350,000 receipts in connexion with the Army of Occupation, and also the £150,000 contribution from the Government of Egypt towards the cost of maintaining British troops in that country.

The saving, therefore, reflects the care with which the Army Council has scrutinised the items of expenditure. The number of men on the establishment, exclusive of India, is 148,900.

The forces in China have been reduced by one battalion, but it is anticipated that two battalions sent to Palestine will remain there for a time.

The strength of the Army Reserve on April 1 next will be about 125,000, and will be about 129,000 at the end of the financial year. The Territorial army on January 1 last numbered 6,864 officers and 129,066 men.

Provision is being made for closer co-operation between the Regular and Territorial armies.

While the health of the Army has been satisfactory during the last year, the War Minister notes "a regrettable shortage" in the number of candidates for Royal Army Medical Corps commissions.

SELF DRUG TESTS BY DOCTORS.

ANAESTHETIC DISCOVERED WHICH IS CHEAP.

By self-experiments, two Charing Cross Hospital doctors have discovered a new and cheap anaesthetic.

The drug used is called percaïn and contrasted with ether, gas and oxygen the cost per patient is infinitesimal.

The two discoverers—Dr. C. Jennings Marshall and Dr. Norman C. Lake—have been at work four months. Reporting the results in to-day's issue of the "British Medical Journal," they say:

"A Definite Advance."

"We are led to conclude that percaïn marks a definite advance over local anaesthetic substances, and particularly we believe that it promises to mark a very considerable advance in spinal anaesthesia."

The drug is used in the extremely diluted form of one-in-2,000. This produces local anaesthesia lasting up to six hours. Weight for weight, it is easily the most powerful local anaesthetic known. Dr. Marshall and Dr. Lake injected percaïn into each other.

Skin injections produced im-

CIGARETTES AND OPIUM.PORTUGUESE BLUEJACKET & PERUVIAN WIDOW.*POSSESSION CHARGES.

A Peruvian widow and a Portuguese sailor appeared in the dock before Mr. Lindsell at the Central Magistracy this morning, charged with possession of 126 tins of prepared opium and a quantity of dutiable cigarettes. Their names were Romara Vivas, a resident of Macao, and Zacciente de Carvalho, a seaman on board the cruiser "Adamastor."

R. O. Grimmer, in stating the facts, said the two were arrested in a public motor car, after they had left the a.s. Sui On, which arrived in at 8.30 p.m. last night. The woman was found with a basket containing the opium, and the man had the dutiable cigarettes.

Vivas said she met a Chinese on the Sui On, who asked her if she would help him to carry one of his baskets. He did this because she had nothing in her hands.

R. O. Grimmer said the sailor had made a trip to Macao, as he was on leave, and that he met the woman on board. He was taking her to a Chinese restaurant. Mr. Lindsell (to the woman): "Why in the world should you, a woman, carry a basket for a strange man?"

Vivas: "He asked me because I was carrying nothing at the time."

R. O. Grimmer explained that when the two defendants were interrogated at his office, the woman told a similar story, and said that she could not find the Chinese for whom she carried the basket.

Mr. Lindsell said he could not understand why the man was charged with possession of opium, when the woman was carrying it.

R. O. Grimmer replied that they were together in the motor car, and he was bound to charge them both.

Mr. Lindsell disagreed and discharged the man on the count of the possession of opium. He, however, fined him $15 for possessing dutiable cigarettes, and ordered them to be confiscated. He added that he could see no evidence against the woman as to the possession of the cigarettes, and he would adjourn his decision as to the opium until noon to-morrow.

The woman defendant had a small boy in the dock with her, and when asked by the Magistrate if she had no friends in Hongkong to whom she could send him, she replied in the negative. They were both placed under police custody.

£350,000 END TO THE DIAMOND CASE.ALL CHARGES DROPPED IN HIGH COURT.

The great diamond lawsuit, in which the United Diamond Fields of British Guiana, Ltd., were suing leading men in the diamond world, has been settled.

For 11 days Mr. Justice McCardie and a special jury listened to the case.

Terms of the settlement were not announced in court, but Mr. Victor Coen, the managing director of United Diamond Fields, stated afterwards that the High Court action had been dropped and that a further action for account between United Diamond Fields and the defendant syndicate had been settled for £325,000.

£25,000 was to be paid to United Diamond Fields by the syndicate for costs in the action for an account.

The action was one by United Diamond Fields against

Mr. S. B. Joel, Mr. J. B. Joel, Messrs. Barnato Bros., Mr. W. Dunkels;

Sir Ernest Oppenheimer, Mr. Louis Oppenheimer, Mr. H. Claridge.

Messrs. A. Dunkelsbuhler and Co., Mr. Otto Oppenheimer, Mr. Reuben Cohen, Mr. A. E. Tilley and Mr. H. O. L. Stack.

United Diamond Fields was formed in October 1926, and had a contract to sell their diamonds to a syndicate composed of the first eight defendants, which controlled 90 per cent. of the world's diamond output.

10 Days in Box.

Mr. Otto Oppenheimer was technical adviser to the company, and it was alleged that through him the syndicate ruined the company by a fraudulent policy of restricting output and lowering prices.

Mr. Victor Coen, managing director of the plaintiff company, was in the witness box for 10 days.

Announcing the settlement, Mr. Stuart Revan, K.C., on behalf of the syndicate said that the parties had agreed to the withdrawal of the action and the withdrawal of ARMS IN BOXES OF SOAP.CHINESE FROM U.S. PROFESSS IGNORANCE.*BLAMED HIS SON.

Stated to have had the contraband specially concealed, a Chinese passenger from America by the President Lincoln, on Saturday, appeared before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, being accused of smuggling into the Colony a Lugar pistol, three spare magazines, 337 rounds of revolver ammunition, an air gun and eight boxes of air rifle shot.

The defendant pleaded guilty, but said he was not aware of the local regulations.

Detective Sergeant Kellett remarked that the arms and ammunition, which were found during a search of passengers' luggage, had been specially concealed in various ways. The ammunition was contained in boxes of soap which were packed in the middle of several other boxes of soap, which contained nothing incriminating.

In reply to his Worship, the defendant said he had been away from China for over 36 years and did not know it was against the law to bring the contraband into the Colony. He had wanted the arms and ammunition for his own protection in the country.

His Worship pointed out that the arms had been specially hidden, so he must have known the laws of the Colony.

The defendant replied that the packing had been done by his son.

Detective Sergeant Kellett pointed out that prominence was given by the Dollar steamers to notices warning passengers against carrying arms.

His Worship said the defendant might have wanted the arms for his own protection. He said it was rather difficult to estimate the seriousness of such offences and imposed a fine of $250, or two months' hard labour, in default.

A Chinese who was arrested in Jordan Road last night in possession of an air rifle was brought before the Kowloon Magistrate, but on the police not pressing the charge, the man was only cautioned.

According to Detective Sergeant Fitches, the defendant was arrested in Jordan Road carrying the rifle which was not concealed in any way. The police were not taking a serious view of the case and merely asked for a nominal fine or a caution. The defendant had been given the rifle two years ago and since then a shot had become lodged in the barrel. On Saturday he was taking it to a friend to have it repaired when he was arrested.

His Worship registered a caution and confiscated the rifle.

BISHOP ARRESTED ON LINER.WOMAN WHO WANTED ONE OF HIS ROBES.

As the Italian liner, Giulio Cesare, from Rio, called at Villefranche, French police went on board and arrested a high dignitary of the Greek Church, Mgr. Ouequet, a Syrian bishop and archimandrite, of Damascus.

His extradition is demanded by Brazil, where he has been to attend the wedding of an uncle.

A Syrian woman, resident in Brazil, Mme. Theresa Samabini, has accused the prelate of swindling.

Monsieur says he suspects an attempt at blackmail. He can prove his good faith.

While in Brazil he met Mme. Samabini, whom he took to be a very devout woman. She asked him to buy some of her family jewels, as she wanted money for her stepson, who had been mixed up in a smuggling affair and wished to flee the country.

Madame asked the Bishop (he said) for one of his ecclesiastical robes, so that the young man might escape in disguise.

While refusing to lend or give a robe, the bishop bought some jewels for £120.

the charges of fraud and collusion.

The position of the syndicate had always been that they denied the charges completely. Throughout they had acted in complete good faith and honesty.

Those charges having been withdrawn, said Mr. Bevan, it was possible to deal with an action for an account between the parties. The position with regard to the action which had been before the court was that that action would be withdrawn, each party paying their own costs.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN JAPAN.NATION-WIDE DRIVE TO BE MADE.*BIG EFFORT TO-DAY.

Tokyo, Apr. 8. In view of the serious state of the unemployment situation due to nation-wide depression, the heads of the official employment agencies throughout the country sat at a conference yesterday to consider means of alleviating the situation.

At the meeting, it was decided that the Home Minister should be urged to issue a statement, broadcast talks through radio, publish leaflets and stage photoplays in order to give jobs to as many unemployed persons as possible.

It was also resolved at the meeting that officials of the official employment agencies throughout the country should make personal calls in order to seek jobs for unemployed.

April 14 was fixed as "as employment day," and various sorts of propaganda have been planned for the day.

MAN HAS SERIES OF ADVENTURES.KIDNAPPED, IMPRISONED AND LEFT STRANDED.

Mr. H. A. Hewlett, of Vera-road, Fulham, has been—Kidnapped at Hammersmith, Driven away and searched in a car.

Kept a prisoner for hours, and Left stranded on the London-Staines road.

Mr. Hewlett, who is a young pedlar, can offer no explanation of the affair beyond the fact that he was constantly addressed as "Mr. Harding," and appears to have been mistaken for another man.

He gave the following account of his adventures to a Daily Chronicle representative:—

"I was looking at the posters outside the Blue Hall Picture Palace, Hammersmith, when a big grey saloon car drew up behind me. The back door opened, and an educated voice said, 'Excuse me, but can you direct me to the Bath road?'"

I put my foot on the running board to tell him. Then an arm hauled me into the car.

"Keep very quiet, Mr. Harding," said one of the occupants.

"I'm not Mr. Harding," I cried.

"But, without a word, as the car gained speed, they searched all my pockets, and examined what they found with an electric torch. They found 30s., which they gave me back. Then they found my pedlar's license, which proved that I was not 'Harding.'"

Woman and Three Men.

"On one side of me was a man about 6ft. tall, aged about 30, and on the other side another man. They held my arms behind my back, and in that position I was motored all round the country in a wide circle for about five hours. They kept the blinds down, but I could see in front of me the head of a woman and a man."

"They never spoke a word for hours, until suddenly they said: 'We are slowing down here; you must get out and get home as well as you can.'"

"So I was left on what I found was the Staines road, near Isleworth."

"I am not the man they were looking for, but I believe I know who

"Wot's her general colouring, ma'am? Perhaps the emeralds would be a bit harsh."

WINDOW CLEANERS AS SPIES.BURGULARS ACT ON THEIR INFORMATION.

"I have found that housebreaking and safebreaking take place almost entirely on information supplied by window cleaners. In the present circumstances any person of bad repute may clean windows."

An allegation that burglars use window cleaners to spy out the land was made by Mr. J. Wilson, Chief Constable of Cardiff.

He was giving evidence before the Local Legislation Committee at the House of Commons in support of Cardiff Corporation's request for power to require all window cleaners to obtain a license.

Chief Constable Wilson said that of the 70 window cleaners in Cardiff there were ten who had been convicted of felony, two of housebreaking and one of safe-breaking.

Mr. J. H. Palin, a member of the committee: "One wonders why the burglars' union is not represented here to-day. (Laughter)."

"Householders can demand credentials from a man who asks to inspect the telephone, but no such thing is possible with a window cleaner," remarked Mr. Palin.

The committee decided to delete the regulations requiring a license, but suggested that a clause requiring window cleaners to register no charge being made by the corporation, should be inserted later.

CANAL DEATH RIDDLE.POEM IN POCKET OF UNION OFFICIAL DUE TO RETIRE.

The mystery of the death of William Henry Rooney, aged 62, local secretary of the Transport Union, who was found dead with his head fractured, was not solved at the inquest. He was due to retire the day following his disappearance.

An open verdict was returned. The usual characteristics of drowning were not present.

The coroner said that cuttings found in Rooney's pocket referred to lines recited by a well-known Cardiff docks-man as follows:

If with pleasure you are viewing

The kind of work a man is doing.

If you like him, if you love him.

Tell him so.

Don't withhold your approbation.

Till the parson makes oration.

And he lies with snowy lilies o'er his brow.

For no matter how you shout it, He will never know about it.

He will never know the tears drops you have shed.

If you think some praise is due him,

Now's the time to slip it to him.

For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead."

Another cutting ended with the phrase: "Life is a funny proposition."

he is. Somewhere in the district there is a man very like me.

"I have never met him, but people often come up and say, 'Hallo, old man,' and then, 'Oh, sorry! Thought it was someone else.'"

"Perhaps this man who is so like me was the man the kidnappers were looking for."

PARIS PUTS BAN ON GAMBLING.NEW LAW TO BE EFFECTIVE NEXT YEAR.

Gambling is to be suppressed in all the day and night clubs in Paris, as it has hitherto been in an outer ring extending to 62 miles from this capital.

This surprise was sprung on the club world of the Gay City.

But by an afterthought, and in the interest of the French Budget, the new Anti-Gambling Law will not be in force till April 1, 1931.

It was 7 a.m., after an all-night Budget sitting of the Chamber, when the deputies, by 95 against 190, passed the proposal as an amendment to one of the finance Bills.

£400,000 Loss to Treasury.

Opposing the proposal, the Minister of Finance had argued that the suppression of gambling in that part of France would mean a loss of 50 million francs (about £400,000) to the Treasury during the coming year. This argument led to the postponement for a year.

It is recalled that the anti-gambling surprise is the sequel to another vote, taken a few weeks ago, against the reopening of the famous Casino at Enghien, near Paris.

Just before the war the Casino of Enghien was one of the most flourishing in France.

When the reopening of the casino was proposed, a few weeks ago, by M. Desnoyers, Deputy and Mayor of Enghien, this proposal was defeated by a big majority.

"If you will not allow gambling within 62 miles of Paris," said the Mayor of Enghien, "there is no reason why gambling should be allowed in Paris clubs."

In consequence the defender of Enghien last night placed before the House the above-mentioned amendment, by which gambling will no longer be tolerated in Paris and its suburbs.

After their anti-gambling surprise the sleepy deputies sat three more hours, and so passed the whole Budget.

LOW DOLLAR EFFECTS.

Last Thursday's meeting of the Finance Committee of the Legislative Council provided eloquent testimony to the increased cost of Government caused by the drop in the sterling value of the dollar. In respect of what is, for want of a better name, termed a cost of living allowance, it was calculated that a sum of $420,000 would be required for the current year, but inasmuch as this calculation was based on a 1s. 9d. dollar, it has now been found that an additional $377,000 will be needed if the allowance is to be granted. This supplementary sum is wholly explained by the drop of 3d. in the dollar. It is not a question of increasing the allowance in any shape or form, but is due to the fact that the salaries of so many of our Civil Servants are paid on a sterling basis whilst the actual money has to be found in dollars, which is the currency in which we receive our revenues. The unsatisfactory character of such a system is patent to all, for, not only in respect of salaries, but also in regard to all other sterling commitments, it is an utter impossibility to budget with any degree of precision. Even under the best of circumstances, there must always be much uncertainty as to how matters will work out; the position, however, is aggravated by the fact that when making purchases through the Crown Agents the Government does not follow usual commercial practice by fixing exchange, but pays on delivery at the current rate. How shortsighted that policy is we shall no doubt learn to our cost when the next Budget is presented.

The heavy bill which the Colony will be called upon to meet in respect of sterling salaries and the other commitments to which we have referred will mean one or other of two alternatives—increased taxation or a slowing up in development work. That is the price which we have to pay by reason of the Colony's currency being based on a commodity which has been spurned by practically every nation of the world. Whatever else the stabilisation of the dollar would do, it is obvious that the Government would benefit tremendously by the step. Confusion would be replaced by certainty, and we should thus know precisely where we were. When we come to consider the issue from the commercial angle, we must confess to being still unconvinced that the uncertainties of currency fluctuations are better for trade than the stability which would be assured by the adoption of a gold standard. There is surely nothing inherently peculiar about commercial transactions which should cause business men to prefer instability to stability. Indeed, we should think that any step within reason which would remove one of the causes of complication would be to the advantage of trade.

The Currency Committee, which at present has the dollar problem in hand, recently intimated that hitherto no case has been made out for divorcing the Colony from silver so long as China bases her currency on that commodity. In the sense that no-one can forecast with absolute certainty what the effects of a change would be, that is true. But the converse is equally true—that those who say our best interests will be served by allying ourselves with China are merely hazarding an opinion. Time alone can prove which school of thought is correct. Opponents of the gold standard have complained that its advocates have not effectively answered the criticisms of those who believe in Hongkong remaining on the same basis as China, and, what is more, that they have not explained how the change can be effected. May we, however, refer them to the views of Mr. E. Osborne and Mr. J. R. Michael, expressed many years ago when precisely the same problem was being faced, which have been reprinted by the S. C. M. Post? These touch every one of the arguments which are being brought forward to-day and they present a case which will take a great deal of answering. It will be the duty of the Currency Committee to take note of all shades of opinion on the subject, and if the case for gold is not put forward from any other source, we hope that due consideration will be given to the views to which we have referred. As we have said before, the Committee has not only to come to a decision, but—and this is all-important—it must give definite and clearly-stated reasons why its conclusions have been reached.

The Newest Steel Combine.

The attempted merger of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, now ratified by shareholders in the former concern, serves further to turn public opinion towards the reorganisation of the steel industry in the United States. The acquisition of the Youngstown plant gives Bethlehem access to the markets of the middle west where it will come into closer competition with the United States Steel Corporation. The last concern has been producing approximately 40 per cent. of the steel consumed in the United States. Bethlehem has been the second largest unit in the industry. Its relative position, however, was threatened during the year by the Republic Steel Corporation, but by merging with Youngstown, Bethlehem acquires a power which now places it far ahead of this newer combination and brings it nearer the size of the United States Steel Corporation. There is some interest in the fact that Bethlehem becomes a $1,000,000,000 corporation. On the other hand there is more significance in the fact that the competitive relations in the steel industry will be more effectively dominated by a few large and powerful rival corporations. Since 1920 millions have been invested in the art of steel making and most of the resulting savings in costs have been passed on to consumers in the form of reduced prices. Only large and powerful corporations can afford to make such investments, but only free competition among them can insure that the full benefits of the improved methods are shared with consumers.

DAY BY DAY.

IT IS A WISE MAN WHO KNOWS HIS OWN BUSINESS, AND A WISER ONE WHO THOROUGHLY ATTENDS TO IT.—H. L. Wayland.

The health return for the week-end shows two Chinese cases of small-pox.

The P. and O. s.s. Kalyan, from Hongkong, arrived at Marseilles on 12th April at 6.30 a.m.

Leung Hing (22), a tailor, of 49, Nathan Road, was sent to the Mental Hospital this morning after he had been pronounced insane.

Amongst the passengers who left by the new N.Y.K. liner Tatsuta Maru were Dr. J. Morrison, Mr. L. J. Davies and Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Morrison.

The silk forwarded from Hongkong by the Empress of Canada on the 19th March arrived in New York (St. John's Park) on the 9th April, having been 21 days in transit.

A man named Wong Hing, who is stated to have endeavoured to slit his tongue with a knife, but who only succeeded in inflicting a slight cut, is now in the Kowloon Hospital. The patient is 24 years of age, unemployed, and a native of Shui Hing.

A house coolie of 7, Torres Building reported to the police that some time between 9 p.m. on Friday and 7 a.m. on Saturday, someone stole a blanket from his room. Admission was gained through an open door in the basement of the house.

On a charge of larceny of 135 pounds of cast iron from a shed at Taikoktau, a Chinese who appeared before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, was sentenced to three months' hard labour, the defendant having a previous conviction for unlawful possession in January 1929.

Appearing before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning on charges of kidnapping and harbouring a five-year-old male child who had disappeared from 132, Shanghai Street on Saturday last, a Chinese cobbler of 144, Shanghai Street was remanded for one week.

Fines of $5 each were imposed on two earth-carry coolies who pleaded guilty before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning to a charge of cutting and removing turf from land not under lease from the Crown and without permission in writing from the Director of Public Works, at Nelson Street.

An unemployed Chinese, who was arrested in Canton Road over the week-end, with a quantity of seditious documents in his possession appeared before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning and, on the application of Detective Sergeant Humphreys, was remanded for two days for the literature to be translated.

Found on board the Northern Star, which is undergoing repairs at the Kowloon Dock, a Chinese was searched by a member of the crew and a jacket which had been stolen discovered in his possession. On the man's appearance before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning sentence of three weeks' hard labour was imposed.

Among the passengers leaving on the P. and O. s.s. Malwa for Home on Saturday were Mr. J. S. Beach, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Barrett, Flying Officer S. J. Blunt, Dr. and Mrs. A. Cannon, Surg. Lt.-Comdr. G. G. Cruikshank, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Greenway, Mr. E. A. Lewis, Lt.-Col. Maunsell-Smyth, Lt.-Col. P. A. Peters, Capt. G. J. Sandys and Mr. J. C. Saunders.

An engine from the Kennedy Town Fire Station and two others from Brigade Headquarters left for No. 88, High Street, at 6.05 yesterday afternoon, in response to a call sent through from the fire alarm box at Centre Street. There was, however, no great cause for alarm, the outbreak being confined to the chimney, and the liberal application of water from buckets being all that was required to extinguish it.

Chan Poon, a feld employed on a fishing junk at Tsing I Island, Tsunwan, New Territories, who was admitted into the Kowloon Hospital last week with a wound in the forehead, died yesterday. It is believed that death was due to tetanus contracted with his injury. As a result, Tang Sang, who is accused of having caused the injury by throwing a brick at Chan Poon during a quarrel, has been arrested.

The Very Idea!

The Sanitary Inspector was making inquiries regarding overcrowding, and his knock at the door of a certain dwelling was answered by the daughter of the house.

"How many people live here?" asked the Inspector.

"Nobody lives here," answered the girl. "We're only staying for a short time."

"But how many are here?" persisted the Inspector.

"I'm here, father's gone for a walk, and mother is—"

"Stop! Stop!" exclaimed the official impatiently. "I want to know how many inmates are in this house. How many slept here last night?"

"Well, you see," was the reply. "I had toothache dreadful; my little brother had earache, and we both cried so much that nobody slept a wink."

The Inspector said he would call again.

There was a shy young man who wanted to propose to his lady love, but never dared. Finally he took her to his family lot in the cemetery and said:

"A' oor family lie there, Jeannie. Wad ye no' like tae lie there tae?"

Pat, who was moving, had asked one or two of his friends to carry his chicken-house round for him.

They found this a very strenuous job, but struggled on. About halfway, they set the coop down to have a rest when one of them suddenly exclaimed:—"Why, where's Pat?"

"I'm all right," came a voice from inside the house, "I'm carrying the perches."

The following appeared in the "agony" column of a London newspaper:

"Husband, downtrodden for years, urged to revolt by imminence of annual spring-clean, wants moral support. Suggests mass meeting of protest by all husbands driven to desperation and founding of communal refuge during spring-cleaning period of storm and stress."

Sea Captain (introducing friend to his elderly aunt)—This is my friend Barker; he lives in the Canary Islands.

"How interesting," murmured the aunt. Gathering all her wits, she added, "Then, of course, you sing."

Carlyle was once indirectly complimented by the driver of a Chelsea omnibus.

A stranger on the box one day, seeing Carlyle get in, observed that "the old fellow 'ad a queer 'at."

"Queer 'at!" answered the driver. "Aye, he may wear a queer 'at, but what would you give for the 'eadpiece that's inside of it?"

WHO WAS DAMON?

Damon was one of those friends whose love for one another was the admiration of the ancient world.

Pythias, condemned to death by Dionysius, the usurping ruler of Syracuse, pleaded for time to settle his affairs. The tyrant cynically replied that he would grant this request, and allow Pythias to return to his home for a short space, provided that another could be found to pledge his return with his own life. That other quickly came forward in the person of Damon.

Amazed, incredulous, Dionysius accepted the hostage, and allowed Pythias to depart fully expecting that the freed man would profit by this opportunity to escape his doom. Still more amazed, he later saw him back in Syracuse to keep his bond.

Before the selfless affection of the pair the king was humbled and his heart softened. Pardoning Pythias, he asked to be allowed to share in their friendship.

This story has been admirably told in the writings of Cicero.

NEW JIXIS FOR THE METROPOLIS.

TWO-SEATER TAXIS OF CHANGED DESIGN.

After five years of red tape delays, failures and boycotts, another enthusiastic push is to be made to launch on the streets of London the Jixi, the much-discussed two-seater taxi championed by Sir William Johnson-Hicks (now Lord Brentford).

Up to the present the net result of intermittent negotiations since 1925 have been.

One solitary Jixi licensed.

No more of the approved type being made.

But this state of affairs will not continue if a Putney firm of body-makers have their way.

The new champions of the two-seater taxi are K.C. Bodies, of New King's-road, S.W.

Six bodies of an entirely new design are to be built as a first venture. The first will be ready for the official Scotland Yard tests in about three weeks.

10-h.p. Engine.

It is to be fitted to a chassis made by Messrs. Morris, which the 10 or 20 h.p. model is undecided, though it is hoped, for reasons of economical running, the former.

The car will be of conventional appearance, and the sliding door that was a feature of the last Jixi to appear on the road has been discarded.

If the first model is licensed by Scotland Yard it is intended to retail the new taxis at between £200 and £300.

"It is only a venture," explained an official of the company. "We have, as far as can be seen, complied with all the police regulations. I think there is an undoubted need for such a vehicle."

Some of the unfortunate experiences of earlier two-seater taxis are recorded below:

1925.—Committee report favours Jixis.

1925 (later).—Home Office accused of ignoring the report.

1926.—Official regulations at last issued.

1926 (later).—Vehicle submitted, but rejected by Scotland Yard.

1927.—Sir William says, "I am still waiting."

1927 (later).—Scotland Yard bans vehicle.

1929 (July).—New design.

1929 (August).—One model licensed.

1930.—One model still on road. No more being made.

Dainty Curls Appear Again.

The dainty curls which beautified the belles of yesterday are again the correct mode of hairdress, especially for evening. How the extravagance of design in dresses has affected the coiffures of the fair sex is seen in the charming curls which Thelma Strecker, above, of Elyria, displayed at the convention of Ohio hair dressers at Cleveland.

Hall-Marked Husbands.

WHY ARE THEY ALL ALIKE?

Why does matrimony turn a man into a husband? And why are all husbands akin?

Generalisations are untrustworthy, but I think it is safe to say that every husband will—

(1) Bring the dogs into the drawing-room and let them sit on the new chintz covers.
(2) Tell his wife that she could have made two more tricks if she had led diamonds.
(3) Press the Browns to stay to Sunday supper when cook is out.

It is also certain that he will say, "In this house you never can get a match." "Why can't we have a dinner like the one the Thomsons had last night?" "Oh! Of course you never want to go anywhere that I suggest."

Husband as a Social Excuse. On the other hand, husbands will wind the clocks, stamp insurance cards, mend the electric bells and the wireless, and interpret Bradshaw. They are also useful as a bugbear to the servants: "I really don't know what the master will say when he hears of this!" also as a social excuse: "I'd adore to come, my dear, but Jack positively won't allow me!"

Three Kinds.

Husbands are classified generally as Bad Husbands, by which are meant ones who drink, gamble, or love their neighbours' wives to excess, and

Good Husbands, who care for none of these things and remember anniversaries.

There are also Perfect Husbands, but these are usually dead.

The sad thing is that the bad are so often attractive and the good so often dull; and the question then arises whether it is better to possess a husband that nobody can leave alone or one whom nobody but yourself wants. As Escort and for Paying Bills.

However you answer this question you will probably wish you had got the other kind.

Nevertheless a husband (of one kind or another) is, in my opinion, very useful as an escort and as the medium for paying bills.—By a Married Woman.

A New Straw.

Panama-lac, a new lustrous straw for spring, is used for this picturesque hat. The front brim is turned back to give the off-the-face effect. The back is cut on one side to show the flat grosgrain bow trim.

The Modern Home.

PLATE GLASS AND ITS USES.

There is not a room in the house but offers scope for the protective covering of plate-glass. It is not so very long ago that such a covering was looked upon more or less as a luxury. But now that plate-glass table tops have become standard in the most modest of tea shops, the average woman has awakened to the fact that the protective covering is indeed an economy. Both labour and bills are reduced; but there is no need to reiterate these obvious advantages.

In the Kitchen.

In the kitchen it should be supreme. It provides an absolutely hygienic surface in the larder, in the kitchen cabinet, and even on the kitchen table, where it will not chip or grow dull with the action of acids as does porcelain enamel. Where plate-glass is used to cover the shelves the modern love of colour in the kitchen can be charmingly indulged. A layer of fancy paper between the shelf and the glass will provide colour quite cheaply. It may be in plain lining paper, or if a pattern is preferred Varese paper is printed in a wonderful range of patterns and hues.

Nursery Decorations.

This same scheme of design under the glass is also useful in the children's room. Children invariably love looking out of the windows, consequently the window-ledge, particularly if they are wide, are always liable to be fingered and marked. Covered with plate-glass for protection, they may also be made pretty and interesting by cut-out figures in colour representing fairy stories and nursery rhymes. A hunting scene or a country picture could easily be arranged by using one of the many friezes that are sold for decorating nurseries. Moreover, when the occupants of the room are tired of the decoration it is easily changed for something else.

Many Uses.

In the bathroom the glass has many uses. Glass shelves have become a commonplace, but as a splashback for bath and basin it is not so much used, yet it offers an infinitely cleaner and more easily cleaned surface than either tiles, metal substitutes or other protection. Its smooth crackless surface is wiped clean in a trice. A glass-topped table in the bathroom makes an excellent secondary dressing-table and helps to keep the bedrooms tidy during the day. Face powder flies about when used with a large puff, and quickly undoes the morning's dusting, whereas in the bathroom it is not so obvious and can be wiped off more easily.

For the Dining-Room.

Small dining-room tables are often completely covered with glass, but for a large surface it is cheaper to use table-mats of glass. The table-mat is placed beneath the glassmat, and not only is the polished surface afforded complete protection from hot dishes, but the mats remain unsoiled. The side-board, too, should be protected in the same manner.

Glass finger-plates are fashionable, either in plain coloured glass or in clear glass under which is placed a motif to harmonise with the decoration of the room.

RHEUMATISM

Here is your REMEDY

URODONAL—the definite remedy for Rheumatism discovered by the celebrated French Chemist, J. L. Chatelain, is a harmless efficient composition which entirely dissolves uric acid, and therefore removes the cause of all rheumatic troubles. It is prepared in the form of a granular effervescent salt, and acts in a gentle persistent manner, and may be taken regularly without causing the least injury to the system.

Keep URODONAL, a teaspoon and a tumbler handy, and you will keep RHEUMATISM at bay.

Turbulent scenes as police scattered 200 Communist agitators with blackjacks, kicks and fists outside the New York City Hall are pictured above. At the top you see one of the rioters fleeing before a policeman's swinging club. Below a youthful Red, his head cut by a blow, is shown being borne away by fellow Communists.

There was no riotous conduct in connexion with the Francisco unemployed demonstration. At the City Hall, there was even a decorated platform ready—provided by the city—and Mayor Rolph, in a speech, invited the demonstrators to come back Monday and present their problems to the Board of Supervisors.

The Shanghai Club was the scene of a farewell dinner given by a number of the friends of Mr. J. A. J. W. Nieuwenhuys before his departure from Shanghai.

This tank-like armored car will be utilized by Detroit police in their war against gangsters and kidnapers. Notice the policemen equipped with machine guns in the observation "nest." This picture was taken while police were testing the car in preparation for possible rioting.

Crews at the Mare Island navy yard at San Francisco worked day and night to speed completion of the United States' new submarine, the V-6, shown above, by March 15. The fleet new undersea craft is 370 feet long, with 30-foot beam and carries a crew of 85.

This striking picture shows the jumbled wreckage of the Chicago-bound passenger train in which eleven persons were killed and more than 80 injured when five coaches were derailed in a collision with a speeding automobile near Kenosha, Wis. The cars, loaded with 139 excursionists, were toppled into a ditch.

Allenburys' Progressive System of Infant Feeding

Does baby's food provide the requisite nourishment to advance the rapid development that should take place during the first few months of his life? The use of the 'Allenburys' system removes any doubt that the food will be adequate for all baby's needs. This progressive way is the rational way and the safe way. As baby progresses his food is adapted to suit and promote his gradually developing powers of digestion and assimilation. Thus the balance of nourishment is maintained and robust growth provided for.

FARMER AND WIFE ATTACKED.

ARMED ROBBERS STAB MAN IN THE BACK.

Three robbers, one armed with a knife, attacked the inmates, a man and his wife, of a matchless in the Nga Chin Wai village shortly after midnight on Friday, when they stabbed the husband and decamped with money and clothing to the value of $23.50.

Searching enquiries were instituted by the police immediately after receiving a report of the crime, and as a result a man has been arrested. The police are also trying to trace the whereabouts of Chan Lam, aged 37 or 38, unemployed and of no fixed abode. He is stated to be known in Tam Shui and speaks Punti and Hakka dialects. He has a long face, protruding teeth and when last seen was wearing cotton clothing and a grey felt hat.

It is hoped that some light has been thrown on the identity of the third man, as Chan Fat, the attacked man, states that he recognised the man who stabbed him as Heung Yung, aged 27, who was formerly his fooki.

The details of the crime, as contained in a police report, are that about 1 a.m. on Saturday, Chan Fat, aged 21, a vegetable farmer residing in the Unno district, was, together with his wife, Tse King, aged 22, sleeping in a matchless, when the three men entered. One caught hold of the woman by the throat and placed the other hand over her eyes, whilst another attacked the husband with a knife. The two struggled with the assailants and finally succeeded in freeing themselves, upon which the robbers took to their heels, with the farmer and his wife in pursuit. They were chased to the Nga Chin Wai village, where they were lost to sight. The pursuers returned to find a quantity of their money and clothing stolen. This, together with the knife with which the farmer was attacked, was later recovered.

Chan Fat was taken to the hospital suffering from a knife wound in the back, but his condition is not serious.

COWARDLY HANDLING OF A GIRL.

HANDBAG SNATCHER THROWS VICTIM TO GROUND.

The maximum penalty of one year's hard labour and 24 strokes of the birch was imposed by Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday on a Chinese who pleaded guilty to a charge of snatching a handbag from a young girl in Dundas Street. His Worship remarked that if he had the power he would have given the defendant a more severe sentence.

According to the facts, as detailed by Detective Sergeant Fitches, the complainant was walking in Dundas Street accompanied by a friend at 7.30 p.m. on Thursday, when the defendant approached from behind and snatched her handbag. She had a tight hold of it and managed to retain possession of the bag but the defendant threw her to the ground, causing injuries to the her face and knee.

The thief succeeded in securing the bag but the complainant raised an alarm by blowing a police whistle. Several pedestrians joined in the chase and the defendant was eventually arrested by a sanitary coolie in Kwong Wah Road.

His Worship said that it was a serious case as the defendant had not only snatched the bag from the complainant but had also inflicted serious injuries to her face and knee by throwing her to the ground.

Addressing Detective Sergeant Fitches, his Worship said that in any of such cases, if the prosecution would like the defendant committed for trial, he would be quite willing to do it. In the present case he would certainly give the defendant the maximum penalty. He supposed that the prosecution had already considered that question.

Detective Sergeant Fitches: Yes, your Worship. We have considered it.

In sentencing the defendant to twelve months' hard labour and twenty-four strokes of the birch, his Worship said that if he had the power to do so he would have given the defendant more.

MERCANTILE BANK.

SIXTEEN PER CENT. DIVIDEND FOR LAST YEAR.

The thirty-seventh annual report of the Mercantile Bank of India for the year ending 31st December, 1929, states:

The net profits for the year, after providing for bad and doubtful debts, and including £162,046 17s. 8d. brought forward from last Account, amount to £419,605 11s. 4d. From this sum has to be deducted £84,000, being the interim dividend of 8 per cent., less Income Tax, on the "A," "B," and "C" Shares paid in September last.

The Directors have added £30,000 to the Reserve Fund (raising it to £1,480,000), £15,000 to the Officers' Pension Fund, and written £40,000 off Freehold Banking Premises. They now recommend a final dividend on the "A," "B," and "C" Shares of 3 per cent., less Income Tax (making 16 per cent. for the year), leaving a balance of £166,505 11s. 4d. to be carried forward.

Agencies of the Bank have been opened at Kuala Lipis, Pahang, and Kuala Krai, Kelantan.

The following Directors retire by rotation, but, being eligible, offer themselves for re-election:—Mr. J. O. Robinson, Mr. W. H. Shelford.

It will be necessary to appoint Auditors. Messrs. Cooper Brothers & Co. and Messrs. W. A. Browne & Co., the retiring Auditors, offer themselves for re-election.

HUSBAND AND WIFE IN COURT.

"BETTER HALF" STRUCK IN FACE WITH STOOL.

A quarrel between a Chinese couple led to the appearance of the husband before Mr. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy on remand on Saturday on a charge of assaulting his wife with a wooden stool and a brass cuspidor.

The parties had previously appeared before the Court but were remanded and taken before the Secretary for Chinese Affairs.

Sub-Inspector Chester Woods informed the Magistrate that no agreement was reached and the case would have to be proceeded with. In describing the assault, the officer mentioned that the husband had used a stool and a brass spittoon, causing injury to the complainant's eyes.

The defendant said that his wife had a nasty temper and they had a fight.

His Worship fined the defendant $10 and bound both parties over.

PROVISIONS OF NEW NAVAL TREATY.

IRON DUKE TO BECOME A TRAINING SHIP.

RIVALRY AT AN END.

London, Apr. 13.
The jurists deputed to draft the Treaty which is the result of the Naval Conference were busily engaged all yesterday. They were assisted by the Committee of Experts under the chairmanship of Sir Maurice Hankey, Secretary-General of the Conference.

A communiqué issued yesterday evening states that the First Committee met at St. James's Palace in the afternoon to consider certain items of business still outstanding.

The fourth report of the Committee of Experts, dealing with the rules for the disposal of vessels of war, was unanimously adopted. The three Powers concerned agreed to a definition of the characteristics of vessels of the destroyer class. Rules for replacement, drawn up by the special committee of experts, were also considered and with certain amendments unanimously adopted.

A draft to implement the agreement reached regarding capital ships was also unanimously adopted, together with the report of a special committee appointed to define the term aircraft carrier. The latter was adopted subject to certain important modifications.

Ships to be Scrapped.

It is understood that the draft implementing the agreement regarding capital ships provides that the British Empire will scrap the "Marlborough," "Emperor of India," "Benbow" and "Tiger." Two of these ships will be rendered unfit for warlike service within twelve months of the ratification of the Treaty and finally scrapped within twenty-four months.

The other two ships will be rendered unfit within eighteen months and finally scrapped within thirty months of ratification.

Mission Accomplished.

London, Apr. 13.
Mr. Henry Stimson, chairman of the American Delegation to the London Naval Conference, made another broadcast address to America and said that in the Anglo-Japanese-American agreement a lower level of limitation had been reached than any body on any delegation felt confident could be attained when the delegations first went to London.

Experience of the negotiations made it clear that Anglo-American naval rivalry had definitely ended. The same applied to America's relations with the Japanese delegation.

Mr. Stimson concluded by saying "We believe we have successfully accomplished the mission with which we have been entrusted by our country."—Reuter.

NAVY'S DISAPPROVAL.

Tokyo, Apr. 14.
It is learned that Admiral Takarabe, one of Japan's delegates to the Naval Conference, has asked the Government's permission to leave London on Thursday next, but it is understood that the Government has indicated its desire that he should attend the formal signing of the Naval Treaty, which will probably take place on the 22nd instant.

It is believed that Admiral Takarabe wants to leave London before the signing of the Treaty, for the purpose of avoiding affixing his signature to a document of which the Navy disapproves.

The Government, on the other hand, wants, firstly, Admiral Takarabe's signature to be

STRANGE SCENES IN INDIA.

SALT LAW BREAKING CELEBRATED.

EFFIGY CAST INTO THE SEA AT CHAUPATHI.

WOMEN AS PICKETS.

Bombay, Apr. 13.

"National Week," proclaimed by Gandhi in connexion with the civil disobedience movement, wound up with mass demonstrations at several Indian centres. There were strange scenes on the Chaupathi sands where half a million people collected sea-water and sang patriotic songs on the way. The burden of the songs was that "the salt law has been broken."

The sunset of the salt law was "interred" by casting an effigy of it into the sea. Bugles were then sounded proclaiming the non-existence of the salt law.

Two More Arrests.

In Bombay the crowds were orderly. In Calcutta women formed processions through the streets and sold contraband salt. They urged shopkeepers in the bazaars not to import British cloth. Five students were arrested for reading out extracts from proscribed literature.

The ex-Legislative Councillor, Pramathanath Banerjee, together with Doctor Prafulla Chandra Ghose, was arrested at Contai on a charge of breaking the salt laws. Gandhi addressed a gathering of women at Jalapur and said that the women would picket liquor and foreign cloth in the shops.

IMPERIAL AIRWAY DEVELOPMENT.

FORTY SEATER MACHINES ON EUROPEAN ROUTES.

TIME TO INDIA CUT.

London, Apr. 13.

Among the early developments in civil aviation is the construction programme of the Imperial Airways Company. Before the end of the present year Imperial Airways will have in use eleven big new aircraft, eight land aeroplanes and three flying boats.

The eight land aeroplanes are being built by Handley Page. Four of them are forty-seaters and are intended for the European stage of the air routes. They are biplanes each fitted with four Bristol Jupiter engines and each having slotted wings. Unlike previous British air liners these machines will have corrugated metal fuselage.

The other four will be identical, with the exception that they will carry only twenty passengers, the remainder of the space and lift capacity being needed for mails and other freight. These are intended for part of the India route, east of Cairo.

India Line Speeded up.

Three flying boats are being built by Short Brothers and these also are four engine forty-seaters. They are needed for the Mediterranean section of the routes to India and Africa.

The Weekly air mail to India was speeded up yesterday by the saving of a day, due to the fact that the service does not now include the long railway section from Cologne to Athens.

THEATRE RAIDED AT SHANGHAI.

POLICEMAN SHOOTS DEMONSTRATOR.

TRIED TO GET POSSESSION OF REVOLVER.

SERIOUS OUTBREAK.

Shanghai, Apr. 9.

During a struggle with a Chinese policeman in an attempt to wrest the constable's gun from his grasp, a Chinese demonstrator was killed outside the Peking Theatre yesterday morning during a disturbance created by students. Though attacked by the mob the policeman managed to retain his pistol, even after being struck on the head with his own baton and beaten about the body by the demonstrators. During the morning, police of Louza Station arrested nine Chinese of the student type.

The trouble commenced some distance away from the Peking Theatre which is situated some little distance behind the Louza police station. Following the arrest of a number of students by Louza police the previous day for creating disorders in Nanking Road, others of their number yesterday morning decided to hold a meeting in the Ningpo Fellow Countrymen's Guild on Thibet Road.

The police compelled the demonstrators to leave the building and persuaded the officials to close the iron grilles to prevent further trouble.

Raid on Theatre.

It appears that after being driven away from the Ningpo Guild the students made their way to the Peking Theatre. Finding the front door of the theatre open, a number of the students forced their way through the entrance, but were met by some of the Chinese employees and two Russians in charge of the theatre. Despite the efforts of the staff, several demonstrators forced their way into the auditorium and called upon the others to join them.

The Russians managed to partly close the iron gates at the entrance, and this maddened the crowd which commenced to beat on the iron and shake the gates. Three others of the mob forced their way through a small candy store attached to the theatre and made their way into the auditorium.

Assistants Manhandled.

Two assistants of the store followed them and whilst remonstrating with the students were beaten about the head and dragged into a small alley alongside the theatre. One of the Chinese assistants rushed to the corner where a Chinese constable was regulating traffic.

The latter ran to the spot where the two assistants were experiencing a rough time at the hands of the crowd, which was rapidly increasing as residents of the district gathered at the theatre.

As soon as the constable appeared the crowd turned its attention from the two assistants and attacked him. Three of the mob rushed the constable and, struggling with him, took his baton away, beating him over the head with it and knocking his helmet to the ground.

Policeman Fires Twice.

Others of the mob made a rush for the unfortunate constable who, realising that the situation was serious, drew his pistol. As he did so one of the mob jumped on him from behind and another attempted to snatch the pistol away. A fierce struggle followed, during which the constable managed to retain his pistol.

Finding that he was gradually being overpowered he was compelled to fire twice, wounding the man who had attempted to "snatch the revolver." This man died later. The other mob apparently took no effect. The mob was eventually cleared by the Police, who made a number of arrests.

"RED" MASSACRES IN NORTH.

OFFICIALS KILLED.

Shanghai, Apr. 13.

Terrible orgies by Communists are reported in news to hand from Hupoh and Hunan.

Massacres and looting are said to have taken place on an extensive scale, and the people in the affected districts are completely terrorised.

It appears that big Communist forces have captured Tungcheng and Shayang, situate some forty miles to the east of Ichang.

Tungcheng was first seized and completely looted, after which the Communist hordes captured Shayang, putting to death over thirty Government officials who could not succeed in making their escape.

It is said that the "Red" bandits

HOW WAR MAY BE AVOIDED.

NANKING OFFER TO REBEL LEADERS.

TWO MILLION DOLLARS TO SECURE LOYALTY.

THE OLD, OLD STORY.

Shanghai, Apr. 13.

A dramatic manoeuvre has been made by Marshal Chiang Kai-shek to secure the assistance of two influential Kuominchun Commanders, Generals Sun Tien-ying and Wan Shun-choi, who command one-fourth of the Kuominchun rebels in Honan. It is said that a sum of two million dollars has been promised by the Central Government to these Kuominchun leaders if they will turn over.

Negotiations between the Kuominchun Generals and two Nanking envoys who have been sent to Honan are understood to be in progress and if they are successful, Marshal Chiang Kai-shek stands a chance of securing victory by these means.

Previous Incidents.

It will be recalled that the sudden surrender to Nanking by similar methods of Generals Shih Yu-shan and Han Fu-chu during the Kuominchun rebellion last year and the surrender of an important Hankow Garrison Officer during the Nanking-Kwangsi party tussle in Hupeh last spring, saved the National Government from two most critical military campaigns, both threatening the overthrowing of the Chian Kai-shek regime.

General Sun Tien-ying, who is invading Northern Anhui, and his colleague, General Wan Shun-choi, command between them over 70,000 Kuominchun troops, which will have a considerable influence in the coming war.

It is anticipated that General Sun Tien-ying will commence immediate and severe attacks on the Central Government troops in Anhui threatening the Nationalist capital if the present negotiations break down.

How Merchants Suffer.

The Shansi officials under Marshal Yen Hsi-shan are endeavouring to accumulate war funds in anticipation of an early outbreak of the hostilities.

The Peking and Tientsin Municipal Governments are extorting large sums from the merchants in addition to demanding $2,000,000 from the Chinese Chambers of Commerce in the two cities.

This is understood to be having a most detrimental effect on the trade in North China and when war actually starts the situation will be even worse, with communications interrupted.

On the other hand, Nanking is well prepared for war and the Finance Ministry has announced its decision to suspend the issuing of the Disbandment Treasury Bonds in the Provinces, on the ground that war is imminent and it will be many months before the Central Government can curtail its military strength.

Two Men for one post.

During the week-end, the appointments of two Governors for Shantung Provinces have been announced.

Marshal Yen Hsi-shan has appointed General Shih Yu-shan as Governor, with Tachow as the temporary seat of the Provincial Government, whilst on the other hand, the Nationalist forces which still occupy the greater part of Shantung are welcoming another new Governor, General Han Fu-chu, who will be in charge of the Nationalist offensive in Shantung.

The appointment of General Han Fu-chu in place of General Chan Tiao-yuan has been announced.

Marshal Yen's Threat.
